

From the Ohio Statesman. Triumph of Judge Myers over his K. N. Persecutors.

Toledo, July 14, 1855.
EDITOR OF THE STATESMAN.—Our Court of Common Pleas is now in session, and the Know Nothing conspiracy against Lieut. Governor Myers has worked itself out. Judge Myers and his counsel were ready and anxious for trial, and had they been allowed to make a full investigation into the midnight plottings of this proscription order, they would have disclosed some startling facts, showing the order capable of committing almost any act of atrocity to accomplish its ends; and that its members while acting as Jurors regard the oaths taken during their midnight orgies more binding upon them than those administered in our Courts, thus prostituting our Hall of Justice to mere engines of persecution and corruption, for the purpose of destroying the reputation of political opponents who have the courage and ability to expose and denounce their order as it deserves, and the good of the country requires.

When the case of Judge Myers was called up by his counsel, Judge Fitch inquired of the Prosecuting Attorney if he could introduce any additional testimony to that offered at the last trial, and being informed by him there was none, the Judge said there was nothing in the case to justify putting the county to the expense of another trial, and recommended a nolle to be entered, which was accordingly done, against the wishes and remonstrances of Judge Myers and his counsel.

Thus ends one of the most bold and wicked attempts to destroy the reputation of a political opponent, that was ever attempted in this country, and for the honor of our State, may it be the last.

Judge Fitch, although opposed to Judge Myers in politics, and I believe personally unfriendly to him, clearly evinced his opinion of the character of the prosecution against him by appointing Judge Myers Foreman of the Grand Jury at the present term of the Court and that too while the indictment was still pending!

Every well wisher to the institutions of his country, (let his politics be what they may) must witness with feelings of horror the prostitution of the sacred duties of Jurors to such base purposes. If our Halls of Justice are to be thus used, what will be the end? Whose life, character, or property will be safe? For the fair name of our citizens, may God grant that another such case may never stain the records of our country.

Yours Respectfully, J. B.

Opposition to Chase.

The papers of Madison county, opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise—to the extension of slavery over the Territories of Kansas and Nebraska—to the Calhoun doctrine of Nullification and State rights, embraced in the first resolution of the Chase platform, to the present State and National Administrations, and to the election of S. P. Chase, as Governor of Ohio, are requested to meet in Mass Convention, at London, on Saturday the 28th day of July, 1855, to deliberate upon the present state of public affairs, and to consider the propriety of putting in nomination a State and county ticket that we can consistently support.

I. Fidler, A. Toland, E. McCormack, Thos. McCormack, A. Driesbach, F. L. Downing, A. T. Jones, John Justice, A. Sanders, M. Phillips, Charles Bliss, J. M. Winchester, John Keneaster, J. A. Winchester, Albert Downing, E. E. Hutcheson, E. E. Davis, S. Bates John L. Crain, J. B. Montgomery, Thomas Turner, Jesse Rea and others.

Thos. Corwin at the 13th of July Convention.

Some one addressed a letter to the Cleveland Herald and calls for the presence of Corwin, the greatest popular orator of the age, upon that occasion. It would rejoice the people of Ohio to hear, once again, the eloquent and burning words of their favorite speaker. But we are satisfied that the call will not be responded to—Scioto Gazette.

Why will Corwin not respond? Is he ashamed of the fusion concern? Where is Mr. Ewing? Where are all the old leading men of talent and character in the Whig ranks? And echo may well answer where?—Statesman.

The Oath-Bound.

Those who have bartered away the birth-right of a freeman to the Know Nothing order, can see an illustration of their position by a comparison. Let us suppose that Benedict Arnold and La Fayette were now alive and candidates for office in this country. As Arnold was a native and protestant the Know Nothing would be bound by his oath to vote for the traitor, because La Fayette was a foreigner and a Catholic.—Ohio Patriot.

"Belly-ake Like Pizen."
The Journal, of last evening, has a correspondent from "Whig Town" who uses the following comfortable language:

"I will acknowledge the corn Mr. Editor, and speak right out in meetin', that our folks down here don't like Mr. Chase a bit too well, and its a mighty nasty dose to swallow. But you know we have all got the belly-ake like pizen, from takin too much green stuff that we planted at the last 'lection time, now, what can we do?"

Another Account.

Louisville, Wednesday, July 4.
The steamer Lexington was bound from St. Louis to Louisville, and her boiler exploded at 3 A. M. on Saturday, four miles from home. The wreck burnt with great rapidity to the water's edge. The D. A. Given came to the assistance of the Lexington, and succeeded in saving all the ladies and children on board. It is believed that as many as twenty-five lives were lost, and twenty or thirty injured; among the latter Capt. Thorp was badly scalded. The boat was an old one, and her cargo consisted of 250 bales of hemp.

Refusing to pay our printer's bills, and robbing a hen-roost, are the same thing in Dutch.

HAVE the pleasure of announcing to the trade in general, that they are now filling their large shoe warehouse, with a more abundant stock than ever, direct from the hands of the best manufacturers East, and their own workshops at home; consisting of a great variety of the best class of goods suited to the wants of this country for the Fall Trade. All dealers at WHOLESALE are earnestly invited to call before purchasing, and examine for themselves their extensive stock now on hand, and still coming in, as they feel assured of their ability to please in quality and price.
Their largely increased trade affords one evidence of the favor with which their manner of doing business is received, and while they testify to the liberality of their patrons and friends, they reiterate the assurance that they will spare no pains to render entire satisfaction. Their stock is large, manufactured mostly in their own shops, and by contract to their order. Their facilities for doing a large business are abundantly ample. They sell only at wholesale, have but one price, and will warrant all their goods as they represent them. An examination of their goods and prices, is respectfully solicited.
